Spotlight on NFSI

Nuevas Fronteras Spanish Immersion Elementary School is the beginning of South Washington County Schools' K-12 Spanish Immersion Pathway. At NFSI, students are fully immersed in the Spanish language, while learning the same comprehensive curriculum as traditional District 833 elementary schools. Students learn about global cultures through their classroom instruction and relationships with teaching assistants from Latin America and Spain.

NSFI holds school-wide cultural days, cultural festival presentations, and offers a Niño a Niño program, which allows students from the middle school level to share their love for literacy with Nuevas Fronteras students.

NSFI teachers personalize learning for students by building relationships. Each student meets with their teacher before the start of the school year and teachers continue working one-on-one with students during the year. NSFI welcomes community involvement and hosts several community events during the year. The school also has an active and welcoming Parent Teacher Student Organization (PTSO).

“At Nuevas Fronteras Spanish Immersion Elementary School we focus on personalizing each child’s experience by getting to know each student as an individual. We foster bilingualism, biculturalism and biliteracy in Spanish and English.”
